

FOUR CORNERS

8

This fall we started our 8th year in Belgium. 8 is the number of new beginnings and that is definitely how we have felt about this year. We have turned a number of projects over to others & we are refocusing our energies.

7

Seven days of concentrated prayer kicked off the month of December. The Brussels House of Prayer is running in full swing. Located down the street from the European Parliament buildings, we feel that we are in a strategic place to be praying for Europe. Our recent event called "The Sound" brought worshippers from all over Europe together for an outpouring of worship, prayer and outreach.

30

Thirty people are open to become stronger believers in Jesus. Rocky has been preaching at a Ghanaian church and was really able to encourage them. So many people responded to the altar call that he was invited back three more times to train the people.

1

One life at a time can be changed. At the National Youth Conference, we served as counselors. A new convert came to see us and is eager to know the power of God for herself. She came from a background of mysticism.

25

Twenty-five pastors gather monthly on Monday nights to build unity in Brussels. It is exciting to see the pastors lay down their own agendas and work together for God to change this city. Once a month we have a worship and strategy meeting at the House of Prayer. The other three weeks the group includes potential leaders who are being trained for the future.

50

We connected to 50 Flemish Churches. Rocky says he loves getting to know more Flemish pastors. We have focused on French pastors for many years but it is great to expand our sphere of influence. At the VVP got to see 50 pastors in one place. Relationships are key to building strong ministry.

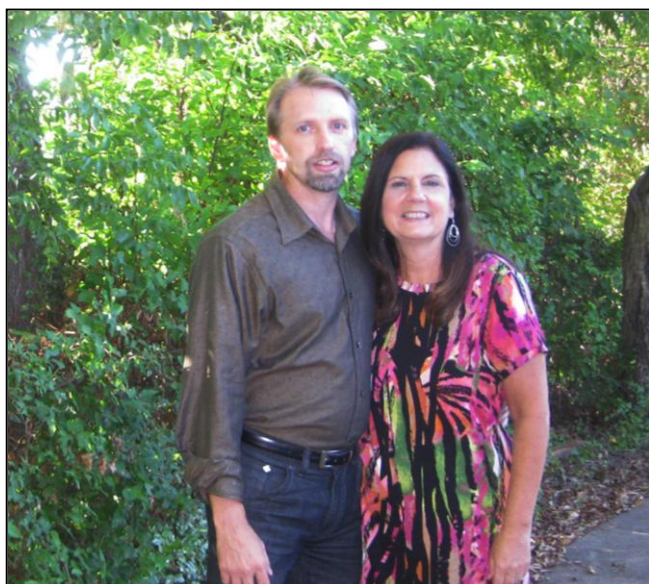

3

We hosted a three day seminar with speaker Willem Glashouwer, a Dutch theologian and author. He had one meeting with French pastors, one meeting at an international church and one meeting at Continental Theological Seminary.

27

Twenty-seven member nations are represented in the European Union. ECI hosted a 2 day event inside the EU Parliament building. Rocky was one of the facilitators in a discussion focused on a legal response to anti-semitism. There is an ongoing debate regarding Europe's stance against Israel.
